In Kentucky, school readiness means that each child enters school ready to engage in and benefit from early learning experiences that best promote the child's success. As teachers, come explore your role in supporting the five developmental areas for school readiness:

Approaches to learning
Health and physical well being
Language and communication development
Social and emotional development, and
Cognitive and general knowledge

What can we expect to see in classrooms that prepare children for school? What can we expect to see teachers doing and planning for as they prepare children for school? What can we expect to see children doing as they learn in classrooms focused on school readiness? This webinar begins the conversation that teachers need to have with colleagues to ensure that every child is ready for school.
